he words tradition and C.E. Byrd High School are practically synonymous. Byrd as we know it exists because of the proud traditions that have been built over the past 79 years. Our traditions set us apart and help us remain on top.

Tradition. Since 1925, C.E. Byrd High School has stood as a proud sentinel on the corner of Line Avenue and Kings Highway. Proudly standing guard, if you will, over our city's most valuable resources - its youth. Serving as a point of reference for countless travelers and a source of pride for graduates, C.E. Byrd High School has exemplified the finest in public education for almost eight decades. Built in 1925 as New Shreveport High School and renamed in 1926 in memory of prominent local educator Dr. Clifton Ellis Byrd, this institution we affectionately call the "City" was founded with great expectations and vision for the future. Those of us lucky enough to pass through these halls feel an enormous sense of pride at being called a Jacket. Regardless of background, race, or creed, this institution somehow brings us together and inexplicably molds us into a unified body.

Tradition. First published in 1911 by students at Shreveport High School, the Gusher has been documenting the lives of Byrd students for 94 years.

ing time, but for some students at Byrd it was anything but that. Summer jobs take priority for some Yellow Jackets. Alex Kline, 10, says a typical day for him meant he had to "wake up at 7:00 a.m., get to work by 8: 30 and work until 6:00 p.m. Then I went home, went to sleep, and did it all over again." Other students enjoy out-of-town trips and vacations. Anna Mason, 9, went on trips "to Mexico, to the beach in Florida, and to Canada." Students also went on youth trips and mission trips with their churches around the nation, and some went out of the country. Broadmoor Baptist Church went to Mexico with their youth choir and medical teams.

School was finally out-no more classes or homework! For most, summer was a relax-

Spirit groups and other organizations went to different skills camps. From football to High Life, dedicated student leaders packed up and took to the road with new ideas and plans for our school. Nastarsha Carroll, 10, went to danceline camp for the first time. "I learned it takes a lot of substantial energy, patience, and cooperation in order to learn and work together as a team," she said. While some Byrd students escaped the city limits, some took it easy and kept a low profile. LeeAnn Riley said, "I really didn't do much. I took Driver's Ed. this summer and had band camp". The mall, the pool, and the movies turned out to be favorite hangouts among Byrd students. Of course, one of the most important aspects of summer was sleeping late. "My favorite part of summer was sleeping in and not having to get ready for school," says Jackiesha Simmons, 9. Closer to the end of the summer students who procrastinated on work finally began their summer reading and other projects. All good things must come to and end sometime, right?

Doing God's Work. This summer, Broadmoor Baptist Church went on a trip to Cordoba, Mexico for their mission trip. On the trip, they worked with underprivileged kids, painted houses, had a medical team, and sang at concerts. Laura Eason, 12, was one of the youth on the trip. She said, "I liked helping the children who are not as privileged as me. It made me realize how much I have to be thankful for."

Anchors Away. The Byrd cross country team was no exception when it came to summer camps. Micah Rabalais, 11, and Justin Hughes, 10, went with the team to Daulphin Island in Gulf Shores, Alabama. They tried their luck with going out in the sea with an inflatable raft. "We really just wanted to do something stupid and that was what we found to do," says Hughes

Pride Rally

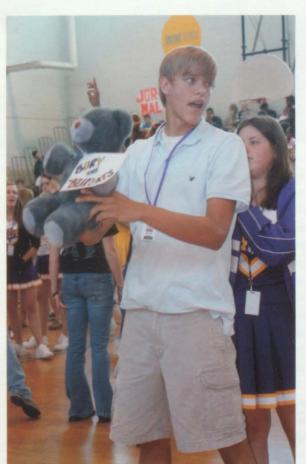

Wacky Olympics bring food, fun, and facts.

Friday, September 3, 2004, the freshman class at Byrd High School was invited to the Jacket Pride Rally, which was held in the gym and sponsored by the Top Jackets. The freshmen participated in the "Wacky Olympics" by playing games such as Hula Hoop game, Roll the Teacher, and Pass the Bear game. Freshman Abagail Todd said, "The Hula Hoop game was my favorite game that we played during the Wacky Olympics." During the games, the Top Jackets used this opportunity to teach the freshmen how to do the battle cry and alma mater. Freshman David Miller said, "I liked all the games and the cheerleaders." After the screaming and games were over, the students enjoyed pizza from Johnny's and soft drinks which Camdon Taylor said were "good and refreshing." Camdon, a freshman, also said that the Top Jackets were "great and full of enthusiasm." After everyone had satisfied their hunger, the Top Jackets divided the freshmen into groups and sent them on a scavenger hunt around the City of Byrd. As they hunted, freshmen discovered some interesting history about Byrd. The scavenger hunt gave the freshmen not only a tour of Byrd but also gave them knowledge about its great history and fun facts about the founders. The freshmen got to see pictures of the first classrooms and the first lunch rooms. Hannah Lee said, "I liked the scavenger hunt, and the games we played at during the Wacky Olympics." After the Pride Rally, the pep squad boarded the bus and several cars caravanned with them to Ruston to watch the Yellow Jacket varsity football team play against the Bearcats. Though the football team suffered a loss that eve ning, Pride Rally helped teachers and students to relax and have fun together. Hopefully this experience will help the freshmen to keep up spirit all year long. The Jacket Pride Rally was fun for all involved and helped the freshmen class show their spirit and pride in the City on Line. Nick McDonald hen most Byrd students think of Homecoming, they normally think of the dance, or the game; however, many students participate in Homecoming activities the week before, October 11-15, 2004. Student Council comes up with dress-up themes for each day of the week. This year, the days were Tie Day, College T-shirt Day, Tacky Day, Super Hero T-shirt Day, and Spirit Day. Mary Lindsay Gunn, a junior on Student Council said, "Helping come up with the dress-up day themes was my favorite part of the week." Another PreHomecoming event is the annual Homecoming parade, an event anticipated by all Byrd students, alumni, parents, and faculty. Many clubs participated in the parade by making floats and riding on them or walking in the parade. Some of the clubs that participated were Astra Club, Red Cross Club, Student Council, Gusher, High Life, Key Club, Softball, Cross Country, and all of the Spirit Groups. The decorated floats were judged by Byrd Alumni. Astra Club received first place, Softball won second, Student Council placed third, and honorable mention went to Gusher and Cross Country. The competition was close because of all of the creative floats. "Another thing Student Council did to promote spirit was paint car windows on game day with phrases such as "Lasso the Cowboys," "Geaux Jackets," and "Beat the Cowboys." Rebecca Cord, a junior, said, "Student Council should definitely paint cars again next year because it was my favorite part of the week." Student Council also put on a hall decorating contest. Each class had one hallway for their class officers and sponsor to decorate. One of the more traditional events that the Spirit Groups put on is the Pep Rally. Blake Jackson, a senior, is one of the Pep Rally MCs along with Thomas Pressly, also a senior. Blake said, "My favorite part of Homecoming Week was the Pep Rally because I was able to help make up the skit." During the Homecoming Assembly, Byrd always inducts six new members into it's Alumni Hall of Fame. The inductees speak about their experiences at Byrd and how these experiences benefited their career. Homecoming Week provides fun for everyone who has the slightest bit of Byrd spirit!

Captured Cowboy. During the Homecoming Parade Thomas Pressly, Byrd's Student Council President, rode on the Student Council Float. The theme of the Student Council float was "Cowboys Don't Belong in the 'City." Brooke Carter was dressed up as Jack the Jacket, the sheriff. Thomas was the cowboy, Southwood's mascot, and was jailed by Jack the Jacket. The other indians on the float danced around the captured cowboy. Student Council won third place for their float.

Scalp 'Em.

The theme of the Cross Country float was "Scalp

Dancin' in the Streets... Byrd students and faculty liven up October 6, 2004 in the gymnasium as the homecoming dance kicked off the night. Students from Ms. Watkins classes, Highlife, and other volunteers started early at decorating the gym and band room in order to make the night look elegant to match the theme. Parents and students stayed to help until after lunch hours to finish the decorations. Other Byrd students got ready by getting their hair and makeup done. As the day continued couples and pairs met together to take pictures and proceed to the various restaurants to eat together. The Freshmen had an arranged restaurant with the "Freshmen Dine and Ride." Freshmen enjoy the warm environment of Semolina's while Juniors Lindsey Carlise, Haley Nix and dates ate at Copeland's and enjoyed their steaks. "Copeland's was so nice, it was great food, and very romantic," says Nix. While Seniors Ellen Homza and Will Wheeler enjoyed the Oyster Bar with their friends. "The chips and hot sauce were awesome," commented Wheeler on the food at the Oyster Bar. After the fine dining students made their way in limousines and carpools to the Byrd gymnasium to take pictures, dance, and experience the effect of the theme of the dance. The dance was decorated with Christmas lights and tissue paper arranged to look like several of Shreveport's landmarks like the Strand and popular stores and traditions like Strawn's, where many students eat on game day mornings. The dance continued until eleven o'clock with a discjockey and Byrd faculty supervising. Badgley was even seen smiling and taking pictures with the students. When asked to comment on the dance, Junior Amanda Osborne said that her favorite part was "doing the train with Carter Hopkins." As the dance ended, students made their way out of the foyer doors and into their rides to either go home or get off Line.

"Homecoming was fun and nothing like I had expected; next year I hope that it will be exciting like this year was."

Are you a spirited Jacket at the City of Byrd?

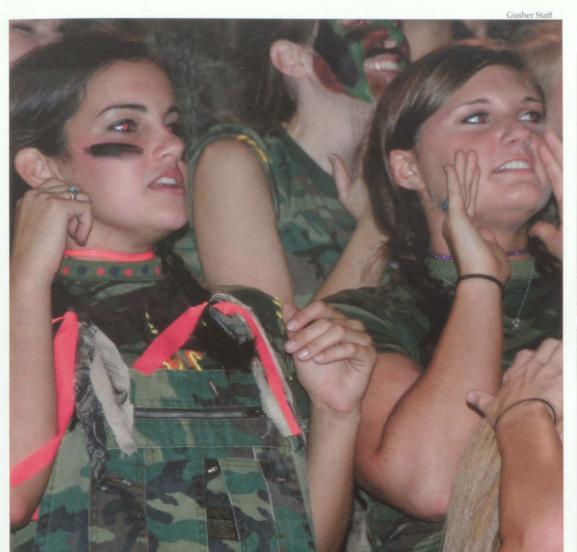

Put some pep in your step

Chelsey Wells

"Meeting new people at pep rallies is fun, especially when you see all of the weird things people do for spirit," Samantha Morgan, 9.

t's Friday afternoon, sixth hour. The intercom announces that students are to be released. This can only mean one thing at the City of Byrd: a pep rally is about to begin. Everyone, one building at a time, makes his or her way into the gym. Even before entering, the band can be heard, getting everyone excited for the rally and the game. "Pep rallies are very exciting and can be scary if you are in a spirit group who is performing," says Christina McCain, 9. Upon entering, you see hundreds of students cheering, dressed in purple and gold, getting pumped up. The pep rally starts with the fight song to liven up the crowd even more. Many skits, depending on the team the Jackets take on later that night, are performed and the varsity football team is introduced. The Varsity Jackets' quarterback, Junior Jordan Davis says, "Coming out at the beginning of pep rallies is great because it gets everyone excited about the game that night." The varsity cheerleaders show their spirit by doing their latest cheer and dance. "A lot of preparation and practice goes into a performance for a pep rally. You're performing for your friends, so you have to do your best," says cheerleader Lauren Tullos, 11. Performing next and usually a highlight of the show are the Highsteppers - "The Pride of C.E., Byrd." The twirlers and flag line show their skills and impressive routines. The most popular part of the pep rally is the battle cry. Each class tries their hardest to win, although the seniors usually take the crown. Senior Tim Martin says, "The battle cry is the best. Competing against the other classes is great, especially because we win every time." Each pep rally ends with the singing of the alma mater. Byrd pep rallies involve the entire school and lead the Jackets to victory.

Do You Have Spirit? Seniors Kathryn Stroud and Charlotte Black want some "Gator Gumbo" - and they weren't disappointed. The Jackets devoured the Gators in our most emotional victory of '04. Says Sroud, "

Time for the Battle Cry. The varsity cheerleaders lead the junior class in the Battle Cry, the favorite part of the pep rallies that gets everyone in the true spirit of Byrd. Each grade competes to try to win over the other grades every pep rally. Philip Homza, a junior says, "Pep rallies are great to show spirit and to show love for the football team."

Extreme Style Students share thoughts on unique apparel

With nearly 2,000 students, the styles at Byrd vary. Whether its jeans and a shirt from Hollister or a vintage skirt from Goodwill, Jackets have a unique sense of fashion. Senior Whitney Baronette says, "I like to shop at Goodwill. Not only are the clothes in good condition, they are also vintage and cheap." Some Jackets at Byrd have dared to step out of the box and show their own way of dressing, while others prefer not to stand out. "I like to be different. I don't stand out too much, though, because I do not really care to attract attention," says Junior Haley Waltman. Students' style is influenced by television, movies, music, and magazines. Price is a factor in buying clothes for many students as well. Many can only buy what their budgets will allow. With stores like WOW, Byrd girls can find trendy clothes locally in Shreveport instead of having to go out of town. Other unique shops in town, such as Heart and Soul, have become popular fashion headquarters for many students. These stores provide trendy clothes that are not typically found in most chain clothing stores. However, numerous people at Byrd prefer to dress casually and comfortably. Many think comfort is the way to go, due to the many hours spent at school and the hundreds of stairs that students struggle up and down every day. "I like to wear some of my favorite bands' T-shirts because they're comfortable and different," says Justin Wheeler, a junior at Byrd. Another popular trend among Byrd students are colorful tennis shoes that match their athletic clothing. There is always the ever popular New Balance tennis shoes as well. Students like athletic clothes by brands such as Fubu and Ecko. "Style is a great way to express yourself; however, it doesn't define who people are," says Claira Smith, a junior. The wide spectrum of styles at Byrd help to create our unique and lively city.

locking in... Clocking out... it's all a part of working a regular job, right? Well, not all students have the opportunity to have a steady paying job. Jessica Davis, 12th, is lucky enough to have a well paying job and an odd job on the side. "I play drums and make lava lamps. I also paint bird baths", she states. But Sophomore Ryan Dunning feels slightly different. "My dad owns Majestic Tent and Event Center. Working with him is hard because he expects more out of me." Having a job is a wonderful privilege, but if you don't know how to save and manage your money, it is practically useless. Students at C.E. Byrd have various ways of saving money. Sarah Melton, 12, has a creative way of saving her money. "I throw spare change into a big bucket. It adds up very quickly,' she assures us. Jessica Flakes, 12, comical way of saving money that could actually be an effective method.

"In order for me to save money, I hide it from myself, but it's only saved until I find it." But what happens if you never find it? Another factor of making money is to make it last. Senior Wade Rice has everything in order. "I just get the basic essentials", he says. But other people like Senior Courtney Phelps have other methods. "I spend my money on clothes, shoes, stuff for school, and basically anything I want." Some students are not as fortunate to have a job and some don't really want a job now. Others just prefer allowance or borrowing from mom. "I would rather get an allowance from my mom because I'm in so many activities at school, and a job would be too much hassle on me," says Junior Janeane Gorcyca. Whether it's flipping burgers, sacking groceries, raising cows, or even just asking mom, money makes the world go round, and we all know it doesn't grow on trees.

Home on the Range. David Dean ,12, comforts a cow lost and now found. He explains how wonderful his job is: "My job as a rancher is the best. The hardest part is when we have to put cattle in the pin to give them medicine. Other than that the job is easy and fun." He lives in Vivian so it takes him an hour to get to Byrd! But he has no complaints. "It is great to look up in the sky and see stars instead of street lights and have to deal with the over populated big cities ."

No Boundaries

Yellow Jackets take talent to a new level.

After the bell rings, students of Byrd retire to activities which spark their personal interests. For some, they spend their free time relaxing in front of the television or diving right into their homework. However, many other students use their free time getting involved in their love for music, extreme sports, the arts, and many other things. Junior Darren Davis takes a more hands-on approach: "Doing construction has taught me patience and practical skills for my future." Since Byrd does not offer construe tion courses, Darren has found an alternative place to showcase his talent. Some students feel their gifts allow them to show a different side of themselves that cannot fully develop in the classroom. Senior Courtney Green says, "I enjoy photography because it expresses a new side of me." Students use their talents as a great way of discovering their future capabilities and to express their unique personalities to their peers. Others enjoy the fact that they are able to display and show off the final outcome of their special abilities, such as painting or videography. Junior Austin Fellows says he enjoys his capabilities with the video camera "...because I get to watch my favorite films over and over." While some use their talents for the pride of the outcome, others get involved with the activities they love as a way to calm down after a long and hectic day at school. Senior Lauren Pettiette says, "Music is a stress reliever for me too because I am able to get lost in the notes of the piano." While not all Byrd students have the ability to express their talents, they are still able to enjoy and appreciate those talents held by others. Byrd Yellow Jackets showcase many diverse and unique talents. The students of C.E., Byrd High School take advantage of taking their talents to a new and more advanced level outside of City Limits.

"Eating, painting my nails, and bubble baths are some of the many beauty things I do in my free time."

-Jennifer Guthrie, 10.

Ince the days of Adam and Eve, girls and guys have shared a natural competitive edge. Yellow Jackets are no exception. While the guys are a little more rugged, the girls like to keep it more refined. Lauren Carpenter, 10, said her favorite leisure activity is "going out to eat at an expensive restaurant with a bunch of girlfriends." Girls revealed that they enjoy pampering themselves in ways like Jeremeka Bradley, 10, and Da' Lisa White, 11, who both specified that one of their favorite luxuries is getting their nails done. Kylie Donley, 9, agrees: "I like to shop and get my nails done." Then, of course, girls like to be up to date on the latest news by "talking on the phone with friends" like Maggie Allen, 10. Despite the image of the stereotypical girl, there are those who like to work hard at what they love for what they want. Allison Perkins, 9, says "I have a routine of getting up every morning to feed and take care of my goats, cows, and lambs."

Meanwhile, what did the guys say? Tim Clements, 11, says "I like to go hunting a lot and mudding with my Dad in his 1975 CJ- 5 Jeep." Studying car magazines, rather than textbooks, is also a hobby found among Byrd guys. Some guys, like Adam Grantham, 10, are inspired to race in streetcar races. The guys said one of their favorite things to do, without the girls, is getting together in big groups to go paint-balling. Some guys like to express their artistic side like Matt Gillum, 11. who is in the band Common Street, and prefers spending most of his time "playing music and chilling." Cranking up the music was another common pasttime among our guys. Though girls and guys have different interests, there is a common thread between them. They both enjoy spending time in the outdoors and making trips to the movies with groups of friends. Some times it's just more fun to set aside the differences and let the good times roll!

Ends the week, begins the weekend.

"My palms were sweaty, my heart was beating at an exceptionally fast rate, and I, of all people, was cheering at the varsity football game, says Brandi Howard of the varsity cheerleading squad. She was so excited when she first found out that she had made the squad that she immediately ran to a phone to call her mother. It was like a lifelong dream coming true. "We were playing Ruston, and I remember it like it was yesterday. When the time I had been anticipating had finally come, time for me to cheer on the field instead of the stands, I was so nervous," She says as she reminisces on that wonderful night. She mentions that she felt a great sense of pride, but not just for herself but for her school also. She knew that if she cheered hard enough, that the team would come through and win the game. Throughout the game she cheered, yelled, jumped, and flipped. "It was so exciting to be out in front of the crowd, knowing that you are making a difference in the confidence levels of the team players. Standing in front of the Hive, which was also cheering with us, was incredible. They were buzzing, and all the other spectators were into the game, too." Everything on that night seemed to be going right for Brandi. She felt as though this would be a wonderful football season. Well, that night the football team lost to Ruston and heads were hung low, but even though sorrow filled the air, one girl was still happy about her first night cheering at the C. E. Byrd football game. "I like to attend football games and I know exactly how it feels to support the team and have them lose," says Ben Speer. "If there was ever a possibility that I would get the chance to do it all over again I would." "I am glad to be able to attend football games with my friends on Fridays" says Ben Speer. Carlos Glass agrees, "It is wonderful knowing that I have cheerleaders for fans."

"The first time I cheered on Friday night, I felt really goofy until I noticed that I wasn't the only one that looked ridiculous."

How are your Saturdays spent?

on the best day of the week

time flies

"I enjoyed talking on the bus when we went to band festival. We often spend Saturdays at competition."
-Garrett Lambert, 9

ormally when people think of Saturdays, they think of taking a break from the previous week. In some cases that is true, but in others, there is a whole other side to the story. For some students, where the school work leaves off is where the time on the clock begins. For some Byrd students, having a job means missing out on many activities, such as senior trips, clubs, and any other thing that comes up in the year. Senior Tommi McAteer said, "I spend my Saturdays working at Tacomania until five, and it is my only source of income to pay for what I need or what I want." Of course vellow jackets are not all about work all the time. Saturdays are also a time to play. Another senior, Dave Fielder said, "My best Saturday was when I scored tickets to and awesome concert. The whole night I was like 'Wa-hoooo'." Some students prefer to live on the edge during the weekend like Freshmen Jayme Hurdle, who found a Saturday to spend at Six Flags over Texas. Hurdle said, "I had so much fun on the roller coasters at Six Flags. It was a great get away for the weekend." For students who stay in town and off the job, Saturdays are a time to hang out and have fun with friends. Freshman Destin Whitehurst says, "I go get about ten of my friends together and we have a pick-up game of lacrosse. It is really a lot of fun because it is just us guys hanging out." Then there are those that have team sports where practice all week leads to a competition or game on Saturdays. After a little breaktime, some students are already back to hittin' the books and preparing for the week to come. Some upperclassmen spend their Saturdays visiting different colleges and filling out applications to their schools of choice. Others spend time taking standardized test preparatory classes to boost their scores. However the day is spent, it is welcome gratefully by all.

Movie Buffs. Juniors Valeria Turturro and Danielle Stafford pay for tickets to see Oceans Twelve. Saturdays give Jackets an opportunity to leave behind the hard reality of school and indulge in the world of film. Comedies are espe cially popular. "I like going to the movies because it is a casual, cool place to hang out with my friends," Valeria Turturro, 11.

Some Peace and Quiet. Bailey (Drew) Baynham and Hannah Blount, both freshmen, take a time out from their busy party to catch up on what has happened since last summer. Hannah says, "Get togethers and parties are a great way to catch up on things you've missed. They keep you up to date on what is happening around school. They are a little like gossip sessions."

Working Hard. (Far right) Will Harper, 9, uses a Sunday afternoon as an opportunity "to make extra cash for the following week and weekend."

Day of Rest

Jackets revitalize for a new week.

Whether it's physical, educational, or spiritual, Jackets find themselves preparing for a new week on Sunday. Some students choose to waste the day away by sleeping in or relaxing in front of the tube. They find this to be the best method of physically renewing themselves after a long, sleep-deprived week. Tony Pelliccio, a freshman, says his leisurely Sunday activities include "watching TV and playing video games." Others choose to get more out of their last day of the weekend by working at their jobs. Some students seize a Sunday afternoon as the last chance to do their schoolwork. Being stressed over this work is common for a determined, scholastic Jacket, but Cole Terzia, a sophomore, isn't worried. "I think Sundays are relaxed, because homework on the weekends isn't that hard." Finishing up all of a demanding week's schoolwork is certainly a great way to get ready for a week of learning new material. Some students choose to attend church for various reasons. Some like the refreshing feeling they get after a great sermon or the spiritual guidance they get from their church leaders. Emily Smith, a freshman, says, "I go to church at St. Mary's of the Pine, because I enjoy learning more about my religion." Other students like to participate in the services. It makes them feel actively involved in their relationships with God. They sing in the choir, teach Sunday school, or volunteer as ushers. Brittain White, a freshman, says, "I go to McCedonia Baptist Church in Cullen, LA one hour away from Shreveport. The thing I like most about church is that I'm the head musician, and I play the keyboard for my church. It makes it worth the long trip." Relaxing, catching up, or worshiping on Sunday are all great Jacket methods for preparing for a new, demanding week at Byrd.

Igh School serves as a fresh start. The transition from middle school can be tough, and the high school experience will take you on a roller coaster ride of emotions. There will be times of excitement while getting ready to go out on dates, times of stress while cramming for a midterm the night before, and times of sadness while saying goodbye to a friend who was too young to die. By graduation day, you will have forgotten some lessons from earlier years. Perhaps you will not remember who Benvolio was in Romeo and Juliet, how to multiply polynomials, or the dates of the Korean War. But, friendships made in high school will give you memories to last a lifetime

Ever sat in class and listened as the guy sitting next to you ask instructions for an activity that the teacher just explained? Happens all the time. Junior Carter Hopkins looks for ways to aggravate some teachers: "Coach Cantrell is really easy to annoy," says Hopkins.

How do you prepare for the ACT and SAT?

Juniors at Byrd realize how important their scores on the ACT and SAT are to their future. Everyone wants to do well to get into their favorite college. There are many ways to prepare for the tests. Several teachers at Byrd offer courses before and after school to help students get ready for their tests. Amanda Osburne took a prep class from the Meekins her freshman and sophomore years. She said, "I really think the classes helped. I felt confident while taking the test even though some parts were hard." Though many students take prep classes, some students just wing it with a good breakfast and a full night's sleep; however, they tend to be more nervous.

What goes on after the big game?

After a football game it is a tradition to participate in post-game activities. Whether it involves going to a restaurant or hanging out with a group of friends at your house, students enjoy celebrating the wins of our football team and helping to cheer them up after a lost. "After the games my friends and I enjoy having fun and acting crazy. We feel that when it comes to game time it is kind of like a relief or a de-stresser after a long week of school." What would motivate early?

Every Thursday morning, Sophomore Samantha Greenleaf's alarm clock goes off half an hour early. She gives up this extra sleep every Thursday morning to go and meet her church youth group and youth minister at the original Strawn's for breakfast. Strawn's offers a variety of breakfast foods, and even hamburgers and fries, for these hungry breakfast goers to order. Samantha has tried many of their meals, but she has one favorite: chocolate chip pancakes. "Chocolate chip pancakes are really good!" says Greenleaf.

What habits annoy you the most?

Have you ever gotten annoyed by someone smacking in your ear or stepping on your heels? Catherine Gist gets seriously annoyed when someone stands too close to her or does not give her space. "It makes it seem like I have no space but it depends on how you look you know," she says. Sherika Johnson is highly irritated by people stepping on her heels. "I feel like they don't respect my personal space." The next time you're walking down the hall or sit in the class, and someone smacks gum in your ear or steps on your heels, don't get mad, just remember that there are almost 2,000 students attending C.E. Byrd High School, and it's very easy to push someone else's buttons by mistake.

Having upperclassmen to influence a freshman Jacket is one necessity needed for starting at the big city of Byrd. Freshman Whitney Soloman explains that her role model for cheerleading is Lisa Guy. "Lisa Guy influences the cheerleading squad by helping us go over the routines," says Soloman. Benefits of learning from upperclassmen can be greatly appreciated. Soloman says, "I've learned how to be a better cheerleader!" Seniors are proud to help out the freshman cheerleaders any way they can, and they keep striving for a better next generation of varsity cheerleaders.

What is your favorite memory while teaching at Bvrd?

"I love that teaching is never boring. Every day has new changes and new excitements. You never really know what is going to come out of the mouth of one of your students. As for my favorite memory at Byrd, that would be when Hal Meekins and I rode the motorcycle in the Science Building. Wait, let me just tell you the story. It was a teacher inservice day, and Big Hal (Mr. Meekins), and the Biker Babe (Me- "The Moakster") decided to ride his motorcycle down the first floor of the science building. At that time, Mr. Hatfield was on security duty, and he was trying to catch Biker Babe and Big Hal. Luckily, his source of transportation was no match for our hot wheels, and he never caught us. It was a good thing that Biker Babe and Big Hal never got arrested by Hatfield."

he extensive club selection at Byrd helps students find their niche in the City. Through clubs and academic organizations, Jackets receive numerous opportunities to feel a part of something and to interact with fellow students. This sense of belonging creates lifelong friendships among the student body. Students are encouraged to join numerous clubs. If you are a nostalgia buff, Scrapbook Club is right up your alley. Or, if you are more into different learning and teaching styles, a place in the Future Teachers of America is just for you. The diverse club choice gives all kinds of individuals chances to feel included at the City. That is the whole point of clubs, to help students feel a sense of belonging in the City.

O Praise Him

The joy of worship and Christian fellowship.

Leading worship is my favorite thing to do. Jesus says in John 4:24 that "God seeks worshippers who will worship Him in spirit and in truth." I love telling God how much I love Him in songs; I also love to lead and watch others worship. In the back of my Bible, the definition of worship is to give praise, honor, and respect to God. As followers of Christ, we are by no means limited to worshiping only with songs! Worship is something we do from the time we open our eyes in the morning to when we close our eyes at night. Worship is a commitment, a lifestyle, a passion; worship is an attitude. Seeing others benefit from the way I act or talk makes me feel like I have finally done something right.

More than that, it makes God look down and say, "That's my boy!" The amazing relationships I have built in FCA are only small rewards from God for doing what I believe He has called me to do. At first, it was not easy to sing and play in front of people. After God saw that I was doing this for Him and only Him, He granted me the loss of nervousness. I try to avoid boredom in worship by making certain that my heart is right before God. I can't put full effort into these songs if I am bound by sin, nor can I love and witness to my peers. To love is what God has told me to do, to sing and play guitar is what He has called me to do, but worship, my friends, worship is my life.

At C.E.Byrd there are many clubs to become involved in. Band, Flagline, and Twirlers are just a few. Students take a lot of pride in being a part of the best spirit groups in the state. Sophomore Jessica Turpin likes being a twirler and she has done it for many years. "I started twirling when I was four. I enjoy it because it is very competitive and you get to make lasting friendships throughout the years. I also like to perform. Performing makes me happy. I work hard and the outcome pays off. I love what I do and I am happy to cheer on my school at pep rallies, parades, games and competitions," says Turpin, the captain of the twirlers. Twirlers go on trips to compete against other schools and in the process meet many people. It takes dedication and hard work to become the best spirit groups in the parish and these groups have done everything possible to do just that.

"Anyone can sing, but not everyone can sing

well."

Singing is how I share my love of music with others, and I can think of no better group of people to share my love with than the members of the C.E. Byrd Choir. Though there are many individuals with different tastes in Choir, we all share our love for music. Sopranos and altos easily out number the guys, but cat fights and diva spouts are extremely no divas (or diva wannabes) in this choir. We are just one odd, happy, singing family. In addition to having fun in choir, we also learn about our craft. Sight-reading is a challenge and developing good sound quality takes practice. Anyone can sing, but not everyone can sing well. That is why we have Mr. Holland to tell us how we sound. I'll > admit we have our bad days and talk more than we should, but Mr. Holland has patience that is unsurpassed. Still, he will not tolerate individuals "stuck between the two towers of ignorance and stupidity", so we know when to shut-up and sing. Guided by Mr. Holland, the soprano, alto, tenor, and bass sections together produce awesome sounds, and nothing compares to being a voice in that.

Happy to Help

Leading clubs service our community.

As an international club, we and the Kiwanis family reach out to the children of the world. We put smiles on kids' faces all around our community. Although it might seem dull, we certainly know how to make service fun. As president, my main priority is having a good time. And simply put, we know how to party hard, play hard, and work hard. Our advisor, Mr. Georgiafandis, is the existential example of how things go. Mr. G. aman who is never at a loss for words, somehow manages to put up with over 150 of us and still have a good time. Honestly, not many men can pull off driving around in a mini van nicknamed the "Silver Bullet". The Sweetheart Dance in the spring is most certainly the highlight of our Key Club year. But, taking a look inside of the club, it is not as calm as it may seem. A lot of work goes into keeping 150 guys in line, recording hours, and getting them to the right place at the right time. The whole point behind Key Club is giving back. After years of progress from our humble 40 member club in 2001, our membership has exploded with hard workers and dedicated teens. We have raised thousands of dollars, and assisted many companies in need of help. It is the fever of party hard and work hard, that provides us with the respect we have today.

There's nothing like being on stage. When someone is on stage they have a presence that seems to overtake their bodies. I know when I am on stage I get the feeling of happiness and joy. I enjoy acting and being on stage because I like to make people laugh. The only time I feel my job was a success or completed is when I have succeeded in making the crowd laugh. I don't know, I have always loved hanging around people and I am such a people person that it is ridiculous. There are so many different forms of acting to where there is something for everyone. In my opinion the productions that are full of comedy are by far the best to participate in. I remember once at my church, I was the lead character in the annual play.

Well, two weeks before the play was to open, I broke my leg. I felt so bad.
I was so sad because I thought that I wasn't going to be able to be in the play, until I talked to the director. To make a long story short, we ended up turning the play totally around and making it a comedy instead of semi-serious.

Student Council has to be one of the best organizations to join at Byrd if you want to get involved and meet new people. Going to the LASC workshop and the SASC convention has been so much fun. I got to meet so many new friends from all over our state and from the rest of the southern states. Going to these conventions gives you a chance to use your leadership skills. It also lets you share ideas with other schools about how to improve Student Council and the school. Everyday we make I.D.s, paint banners, and pick up attendance along with many other daily tasks that make Byrd outstanding. One of my favorite Student Council events is Buzz Fest. It is a school talent show and Student Council does skits that go along with the theme. Student Council has helped me learn how to be a leader and has provided me with many wonderful opportunities. I have had a wonderful time being involved.

I believe it is a great experience to be in Spanish Club. I was in Spanish II when I thought it would be great to enhance my activities at Byrd by joining the club because joining clubs is a great way to get involved in helping others and learning about people. It is exciting to be in Spanish Club because it teaches about other cultures and their history. Also, I believe taking a foreign language gives you an advantage when you go places that speak Spanish. That way you can understand, truly understand everything that they are talking about. I really enjoyed the homecoming parade. Even though I was unable to ride on the float, I was still able to enjoy the excitement of the parade. Moreover, our meetings are really productive in that we plan out our activities. The meetings are also a great way for us to collaborate on the projects were going to do next week and so forth. We are all looking forward to our projects for next year and the years to come.

Im really glad I took Cooperative Education (COE) this year.

COE students come to school through 4th hour and then leave to go to work. We are supposed to work an average of 15 hours a week and a total of 540 hours to graduate. We have a small class of about 14 girls and 2 guys, and we all have office jobs. Some of us work in hospitals, banks, and churches. I work for my dad at Moore Wireline in Haughton. I enjoy meeting the people he works with and getting to be with him. Now I know why he is always so stressed out! I help his secretary answer the phone, process invoices, calculate time cards, and file. I like my co-workers and have fun at my job. Taking this class has helped me decide what I want to do after college. I've narrowed my options down to ele mentary education or something in business. After working for my dad, Iknow I want to work around people. In the COE class, we have learned how to prepare documents, office communication, be properly attired, and we have learned how to use several computer programs. This class has been very beneficial and a lot of fun!

"We get paid while receiving credits for school."

•Cool Class. Seniors Ashley McMaster, Brittani Mandigo, and Amber Neal take care of business in COE.
•Auto Student. Jared Johnson, 12, works as anautomechanicfixing vehicles for homework.

•Daddy's Helper. Senior Haley Moore works for her father when she leaves for COE•Workin' Hard. Senior Ebony Stinson works hard in second hour for DECA in Mr. Gannon's class.

Three clubs with amazing talents and abilities.

By: Jami Windham

Latin Club is one of Byrd's most enjoyable and beneficial clubs. The highlight of the club's year is the Louisiana Junior Classical League convention. The convention is held in Baton Rouge in early March and features academic, athletic, and artistic competitions. The convention is more than vying for medals, though, the students can also enjoy a swimming pool, a talent show, two dances, and a banquet following parade. The club activities are just as fun as the convention. Members frequently gather to watch movies such as Monty Python and the Holy Grail and Gladiator. In December, the club holds a "Santurnalia" party where they exchange white elephant gifts in light of the Christmas season. The spring events include toga-bowling, in which the club members compete in a bowling tournament while wearing togas. Club members enjoy Latin Club for the fun-filled events and the friends they meet while participating in activities.

France. Students in French Club venture to France along with Mrs. Pinkley. "Going to Paris was great! The best part was probably breaking the elevator," says Gerald Sayers, 11. Latin. Junior Corey McCrary is led on the chariot for Latin Club during the homecoming parade. "It was interesting making my own costume," says McCrary.

Why join French Club?

"I joined French Club because it's an academic club and it's fun because Mrs, Pinkley leads it."

What is your favorite activity?

"Being with my friends in the club is my favorite part of French Club. -Michael Nelson, 11

Why join French Club?

-Chavalier Sharps, 11

Chess For Two. Sophomore sisters Rikesha and Alika George enjoy a quick game of chess. Alika says, "I joined Chess club because I needed a reason to practice the game. I like that I get to play with other people besides just my sister."

Recycle. Sophomores Emily Slack and Chelsea Giles support a recycling project for Leo Club in Dr. Kerley's class. Leo club has offered the teachers an opportunity to recycle paper. Chelsea says, "The camaraderie Leo club has makes everything so much more fun!"

"I joined Chess Club because I am pretty good, and I like to get out of first hour." -Adam Gardner, 11

Why did y ou join Chess or Leo club?

"I joined Chess Club because it's fun and challenging; this really puts your mind to work." -Demetrius Thomas,11

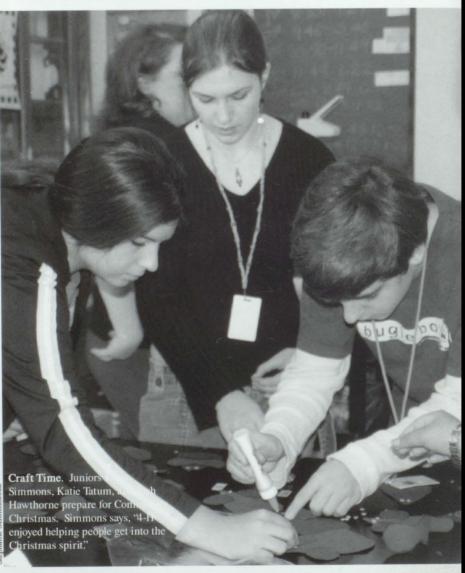

Hannah Breithaupt

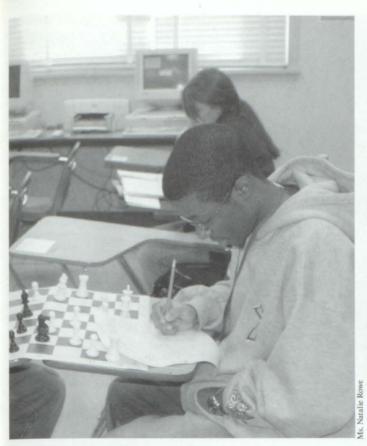

"I joined Chess Club because I usually beat people in four moves. Bobby Fischer is my idol."

-Alex Boyer, 12

"I joined Leo Club because Mr. Meekins is the sponsor. We send eye glasses to foreign countries." -Douglas Degges,12

Chess Champion. Making a pursuit to help represent Chess Club well, junior Jonathan Jackson takes time out to write his favorite parts about playing the game and his favorite challenges that he likes about being in Chess Club.

Understanding the Game. Senior Theo Dallas takes time out to think about his next move. Chess can be a challenging game, yet many still agree that Chess Club is a great way to get out of class.

Ritting together the largest year book in Byrd history

By: Jordan Sandefur

Being a member of the Gusher Staff has shaped my high school career. I have learned that yearbook is one of those "character building" experiences. There have been many occasions that I wanted to throw in the towel and call it quits; however, I am forever grateful that I stuck with it. Gusher has been a wonderful, rewarding experience for me. It has taught me patience, responsibility, and the ability to rely on the talents of others. It has truly taught me the definition of "team." To my staff: thank you so much for making this year a success. Without your hard work and dedication, the production of this yearbook would not have been possible! I take great pride in recording and preserving the history of C.E, Byrd. It has been an honor to serve as editor during the 2004-2005 school year. I hope in years to come when you look at this book, you will remember your time here with fondness.

Art is the essence of communicating an idea through a metaphysical approach. Often, people find themselves unable to clearly convey what they want to say in everyday dialect. Art enables them to express their ideas, their thoughts, their inner feelings, and about all, their souls, in a universal from suitable for any audience. Perspectives, Byrd's literary magazine consisting of student poetry and artwork, serves as the link between the voice of the poet and they eyes and ears of the audience. As editor, it is my goal to distribute a diverse combination of ingenuity and creativity. The entries are judged and the ones with top scores find a place in the magazine. Perspectives also includes phy. Like words, pictures can tell stories, and they can influence our emotions. Our goal is to provide students with an opportunity to voice their inner souls to their fellow students. Perspectives give students a chance to be recognized for their artistic endeavors. Byrd is blessed with talented poets and artists, and as editor, I am delighted to share the inventive ness and creativity with all my fellow students.

Live and Learn. "I really had lots of fun. The pizza and games were great and the whole experience was totally awesome," says Daniel Sharbono of a fun and games Quiz-Bowl tournament at Byrd High.

Brain Games

Knowledge is a key to great success!

My first Quiz Bowl tournament was at the beginning of this school year. I was kind of nervous about it since the other people going were really smart. If igured even if I did horribly, it would still be fun and I would learn how the tournaments worked.

The tournament was in Lafayette. The next day, which was the day of the tournament, I was teamed up with Noah Baker, Megan French, Torie Prothro, and David Petteitte. We got smoked in our first game. It was a good game but we lost by a ton. The second game was better; we won. Most of the questions I knew, someone else would answer them before me, or I was too nervous to buzz in. We ended up winning 2 of the 5 games we played. Having those smart people on our team definitely made me feel stupid. French was my strong point, but math was the type of question I was able to answer. Noah Baker would answer the questions in seconds and he was good at the fairy tales, too. Megan French dominated on the bones and human body questions. Some of the questions were just crazy! I really enjoyed the whole experience and I learned that quiz bowl really rocks! Only cool people are in quiz bowl!

The Outdoor Sports Club shoots skeet once or twice a month at the Redchute Shotgun Club at Barksdale Air Force Base. One time while we were shooting, my friend Parker Brown accidentally shot the high house, one of the locations for throwing skeet. This was so funny because he had just been congratulated on his shooting ability. Talk about irony! Every time were out at Redchute, Mr. Harris, the sponsor, is trying to buy a shotgun. He has so many, but his favorite is the Remington

70. He is also a great shot and rarely ever misses. Even though we all think of safety first, there was one time when Reese Hawley forgot to unload his gun and it discharged on the ground scaring everyone. It was funny because he always talks about how good a shooter he is, but we all found an imperfection that day. We still rag him about it! Joining this club is a great experience to laugh with friends, learn from other members of the team and the professionals that are out there.

By: Whitney Baronette

The Future Teachers of America is a new club at Byrd. Mrs. Nichols, a new freshman English teacher, is the club's sponsor. Mrs. Nichols is extremely excited about this club, because she has sponsored it at her previous schools. The club has participated in many activities this year, including field trips and having a bake sale. FTA went to Creswell Elementary earlier this year to tutor the students there. Being at Creswell gave the club members excellent teaching expe rience because they were able to actually interact with students in a true classroom experience. The bake sale that FTA sponsored was to raise money for the club for future activities that they will participate in. Whitney Baronette, > the president of FTA, and Stacey Brown, the vice - president, have greatly enjoyed leading this club and gaining great experience in the teaching profession. Even though the club requires a lot of time and effort, the members say that everything is worth it because it is teaching them valuable lessons that they will use in their future careers.

My first major performance was at the Caddo Parish Blowout Drill Meet during my sophomore year. I was very excited because I felt I finally had my time to shine and show off. Even though we had been practicing for two weeks, when I stepped in the gym I kept feeling butterflies and a rush of nervousness. Stage fright completely took over me. I was very nervous. During inspection, which is where the judges look over the uniform, I could not stop shaking.

When we got to the exhibition phase, I looked up and saw my mother, smiling and waving at me. I knew I had to do my best for the team and not only for them, but also for myself. My palms were sweating, but once we started, I remembered everything and breezed right through it. I managed not to make a mistake and to get over my stage fright. We ended up winning first place. This made me feel like I had made a contribution that benefited my team.

By: Zoe Ramsey

If you were born around September 15, 1986, then you share a birthday with the Byrd Alumni Association. A lot has been accomplished since that day. By June of 1987, the first alumni association and the PTSA were celebrating the C. E. Byrd Ultimate Reunion. Ultimate Reunion was a huge success and brought thousands of grads from 1926 to 1987 together for renewing friendships and thinking about the future of Byrd High School. The new ideas soon became actual projects. Over the years the Alumni Association has completed numerous projects. On a yearly basis we reward teachers and student grants and the Ravenna Scholarship. Another annual event is the Hall of Fame Induction each fall where five outstanding alumni and one former teacher meant to them. Soon it will be your turn to continue to help keep Byrd an outstanding school. New graduates are automatically added to the 17,000 plus database of Byrd Alumni. Dues for the first five years fol-

Gods of the Gridina By: Detrick Taylor Tackets take the front line

Ever since middle school, football has been part of my life. Playing football in high school is one of the most important decisions I could have made to further my career to college football. My junior and senior years of football were the times when people realized that I had tremendous skill and potential to become a key player on the football team. For me, football is one of the things that makes me strive hard in school to keep up my grades because without the grade, there's no ball. Football is my sport of choice because when all the pressure of school and life becomes overwhelming, you can always take it out on someone else and smash them in the mouth. When playing football, you have to know when to turn it on and off. The day of important games, I would always tune out every distraction, even teachers. I focused on what key plays the opponent liked to run, and who was there best athlete. When game time came and I was on the field, I would turn into a completely different person. I would become enraged with furry and adrenaline. In simpler words, I would hate the opponent. Even though my senior year of football didn't take me to the playoffs, it got me something much more, a scholarship to play college football. Now Im ready for the next level of competition, and after that Im thinking about the pro's. I have not decided which college Im going to yet, but I have some in mind. Wait until signing day, and you shall know.

Play by Play Moving ahead one step at a time.

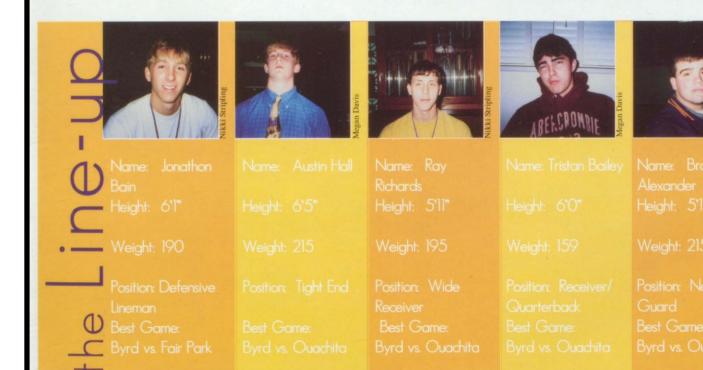

During the 2002-2003 football season, Byrd did exceptionally well. We made it into the playoffs and it was exciting for everyone who had never experienced high school football before. This is one player's story. When I was a sophomore, we got into the playoffs. The first week of practice before the big games, a hawk appeared at the field. We adopted it as a kind of mascot. When we were practicing the week of the Jesuit Blue Jays game, the hawk gave us a good omen. We looked up during practice one day and saw it kill a blue jay. That night at the game, we beat Jesuit really bad. The next week, we were practicing for the Catholic of Baton Rouge game and we saw the hawk kill yet another bird. We all saw this as another sign and we beat Catholic on their own field. After that, we all thought that as long as the hawk was killing its prey, so were we. We went into the next week very confident, hoping to beat Rummel. We started practice and the hawk was not there. He didn't show up at all that week. We went with high hopes and played Rummel, but we lost. The hawk may have been a sign or a coincidence, but I will never forget it. Ouch! Chaz Baylor, 10, gets his ankle wrapped. "It was bad to get hurt during a game, but I was glad some of the guys came over and checked on me!"

Great Expectations Freshman and IV live up to a challenge By All

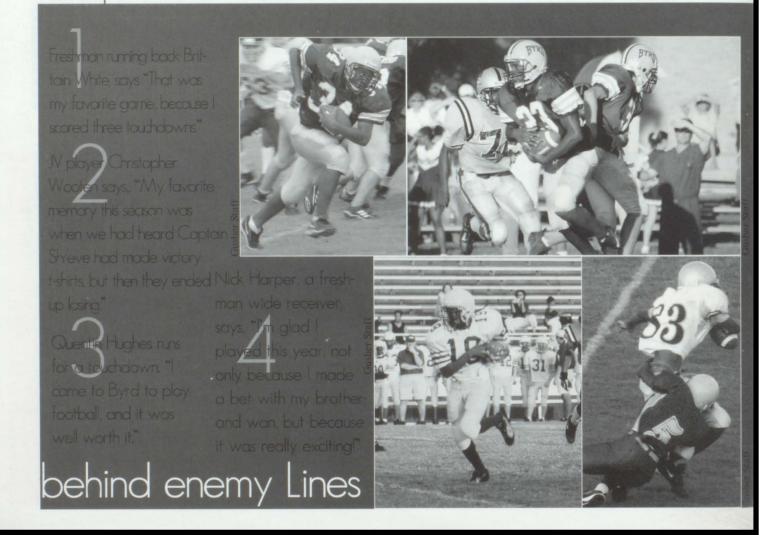

Many people think of junior varsity as just a preparation for varsity football, only it is much more than that. For the past ten years or more, Byrd's JV football team has had a winning record. That says a lot about our football program. This year, the team ended the season with a winning six and two record. The first loss came in a long-fought battle to Haughton in overtime, after leading fourteen to nothing in the first quarter. The second loss occurred when Benton capped a game winning drive off, with a fifteen yard touchdown pass. After that, we never lost another game. My favorite game was the Shreve game, because I have two cousins that play linebacker for them. Shreve has been a rivalry for a long time and we know a lot of the guys playing over there. The funniest memory I have from playing JV was when we were playing Southwood. We were dominating the game, but we were shy of making a first down and had to punt. That's when David Hankins was called to the field to punt. When the Southwood player got the ball, he ran past the majority of us, but didn't see Hankins. The Southwood player back side stepped down the sidelines, before suffering a vicious hit by our punter. That got the whole team pumped up. The JV football team also gives some guys the chance to prove themselves or get a little playing time. It is a great way to ensure that everyone has a positive attitude. Not to mention that JV football is a blast.

Hut. "I am so glad I played football for Byrd this year. I will never forget when Willy King ran back the touchdown to win against Haughton," said Ryne Allen, 9th, Offensive Line.

own the Cour Boys aim straight for state.

The last two seasons of basketball have been pretty good. Last year we went to the playoffs and were forced to play Sulphur, the number one team in the state, at the time. We played our best game and really put ourselves in a situation to win the game. A lot of fans drove down to the game, and that really meant a lot to the guys on the team. We played our hearts out and really tried to make our school proud. Although we lost the game, we learned a lot about ourselves as a team. When we work hard and play together as a team, we can accomplish anything. We took what we learned last year and applied it to this season. We really got off to a good start and hopefully can keep it up.

So, my greatest basketball memory is just being able to be a part of the C.E. Byrd basketball team. I love this school and the team. We are like brothers; we have really bonded as a team. I would do anything for my teammates. I am a senior guard so I will really miss the team when I graduate. All the games and tournaments where everyone is excited and pumped up have been awesome. I want to win state and make this my most memorable moment of basketball.

fourth quarter. Within the last 3 minutes of the game we came within two points of Southwood. With a few seconds left in the game Shannon Thompson made an awesome shot and tied the game up. We went into overtime and played as hard as we could. We never gave up and kept playing our own game. That game taught us that if you put your heart into something and do the best that you can you can achieve your goal. We have really bonded as a team this year. We have grown closer than any team I have ever been on. Road trips have been the best. Sometimes we had more fun at the hotels, than we had at the games and tournaments. Our silly little pranks and jokes we do on trips are unforgettable.

Slam Dunk Lady Tackets shine

Since I was little, I always wanted to play high school ball. Being on the Lady Jackets' basketball team is one of the best things that has ever happened to me. Were like a family this year - no arguments or childish fights. We may have lost a lot but always seem to have fun while were doing it. If one person has a problem, we all have one. One of the best games we played was against Southwood. Even though we lost, we all played like a team. We played hard-core defense. The offense was okay, but it got the job done. My favorite memory was while we were on a road trip and staying in a hotel. We decided to make a video and act out everyone on the team. I dressed up as a rubber women and ran down the hallway until the manager made us go back in our rooms. Our next plan of action was an innocent prank on a sophomore. While she was peacefully sleeping, we gave her a wake up call. We poured a bucket of ice on her while she was still in the bed! The reason I play basketball is for the experience and rush. When they call your name and everyone screams, it's the coolest feeling anyone could have. It makes me happier than a kid in a candy store! The experience will get me ready for college ball, because that's when you hit it big time. This was the best year I ever had. The girls have been great. And it just doesn't get much better than Coach Guidry. Our new coach is pretty cool, too. I think he will be able to do many great things for our team. I hope we only get better as time goes on. Hopefully by my senior year, we will have enough experience and we can go straight to state! Time Out. The players listen intently to the coaches during a time out. "Basketball helps me in other sports, like lacrosse." says Kintzing.

These girls are on fire!

Cheerleading is a very fun sport. It is a good way to get involved in the activities at Byrd. It also opens new opportunities to meet new people and make a lot of friends. Some of my best friends I met while I was in Coach Levermann's first hour pep squad class. Being a cheerleader gives you a respectful personality and people look at you in a different way than just a normal student. Being a role model for your school is a great honor. You must have a lot of unique qualities to be a freshman cheerleader. For example, you have to be in pep-squad, and you must maintain a good grade point average. You also need to have a peppy personality and be very spirited. You must love your school and the team you are cheering for. I have learned a lot from cheerleading. I have learned that you have to work as a team to accomplish your goals. You have to get along with everyone even if they are not your most favorite person. A lot of people think that cheerleading is not a challenging sport. But they have no idea. You must be in excellent physical condition and be prepared to lift and throw girls in the air. I think that cheerleading is considered a sport because you have to be physically fit and dedicated. Plus, if it was any easier, guys would do it.

Spirit of Byrd Byrd Varsity Cheer keeps school alive.

Cheerleading at Byrd has been a major part of my high school career, and I feel very lucky to have been a part of this squad at Byrd. I have been a cheerleader all four years and this year, my senior year, has definitely been my favorite. As one of the captains of the squad, my goal this year, and all four years, was to unify the squad and progress through the difficulties of our routines and stunts, which I think we have accomplished. We always practice extremely hard to improve our routines since it is a huge part of what we do. Our squad has really come together this year; we get along great and are a much closer squad than any I have participated in. Each and every girl on the squad has influenced my life and the decisions I make daily in some way, which I greatly appreciate. I will cherish the memories of their humor, advice, and kindness. We work very well together as a group and that is a very important skill to have in a cheerleading squad. Because of our friendship with one another, the football games, and out of town bus rides were definitely the most fun. Football games were the highlight of our year and something we looked forward to every week. Although many hours and hard work were put forth, the pep rallies were the biggest success of the year! Being able to perform for the entire student body at pep rallies has been a great honor and privilege for all of us. Cheerleading has been part of my life for so long and I am going to miss being a part of a squad and all the fun times! Even though I can't wait for college, I will cherish these times. These memories will stay with me throughout my life and I will remember everything, always.

Stingerettes By: Jodo Brokenberry PROSquad puts pep in the fans

Purple and gold, purple and gold! That is one of the pep squad's most known cheers. The pep squad at Byrd, better known as Stingerettes, are one of the main spirit groups in school besides the cheerleaders. The Stingerettes are a dominating force that can cheer our team to victory time and time again. We are divided into four main squads: B, Y, R, and D. All together, we make friends and family unite to chant the cheers and show spirit towards our school. The Stingerettes work hard day in and day out to practice cheers and make sure we represent Byrd well. The squads come to all football and basketball games no matter what the weather. I remember one time we were at a game and my fellow captain, Brandy Hutto, 10, said, "It is amazing how dedicated we are to our sport. We cheer in the rain and the sun." Brandy is right; we cheered in the rain and we cheered in the heat, but no matter what we had spirit. The pep squad united as one. Next year many new freshmen will join Byrd and add on to the pep squad's legacy. Byrd is full of tradition and pep squad is definitely one of those traditions that will never go away. I will always remember our sponsors Miss Springer and Miss Drake yelling "Hey Stingerettes" at us while we marched on the football field. No matter what grade a student is in at Byrd or what their favorite thing about school is, they were in pep squad or had a friend that was in pep squad. Pep squad leaves an impression year after year. Alumni, parents, students and even the community know Byrd is all about its spirit, and pep squad brings plenty of that.

Purple and gold. Freshman Sharmain Cannon along with the rest of her squad cheer at one of our varsity football games. "The games are a great way to show school spirit," Cannon said.

Line Up, Girls. Lauren Burkhalter, 9, leads the long line of girls preparing to practice cheers. "Pep Squad is great thing for girls to get involved in," said Burkhalter.

Freshmen Hannah Lee and Morgan Merriman reunited at pep squad camp in August. Together they learned all about being a Byrd Stingerette.

By: Laura Bambura

Danceline has been a big part of my life here at Byrd. I have been on it for the past three years. Being involved in a club or organization is very important at Byrd. Freshman year I was so excited to try-out for the Highsteppers. That year we worked so hard getting ready for pep rallies, football games, basketball games, and competitions. We even got a chance to perform on a cruise. In January we drove a long time to Port Canaveral and headed for the Bahamas. It was so much fun and we had a blast performing. We were able to go to the market and bargain with the sellers for all kinds of things. We also went to this island where we were able to lay out on the beach and do different activities around the beach. It was the first time most of us had ever gone on a cruise and it was very memorable. That same year we went to Kilgore, Texas to perform at a competition. We worked really hard for all of our dances and we won a lot of awards. Also we went to New Orleans to preform. While there, we learned a dance and spent a lot of time practicing. We got the chance to perform at the High School State Championship Pregame. We were all really excited about getting to dance. And we also got to go shopping at the River Walk and meet a lot of new girls who were fun and talented while there. At the end of the year, I tried out for an officer position and I have served as an officer the past two years. Danceline is hard at times and can take up a lot of time; but it has taught me discipline and respect for others. I have learned how to work well with others and to always push for what you believe in.

Take It to the Material Wrestling strives to defend their title By. Daniel Martin

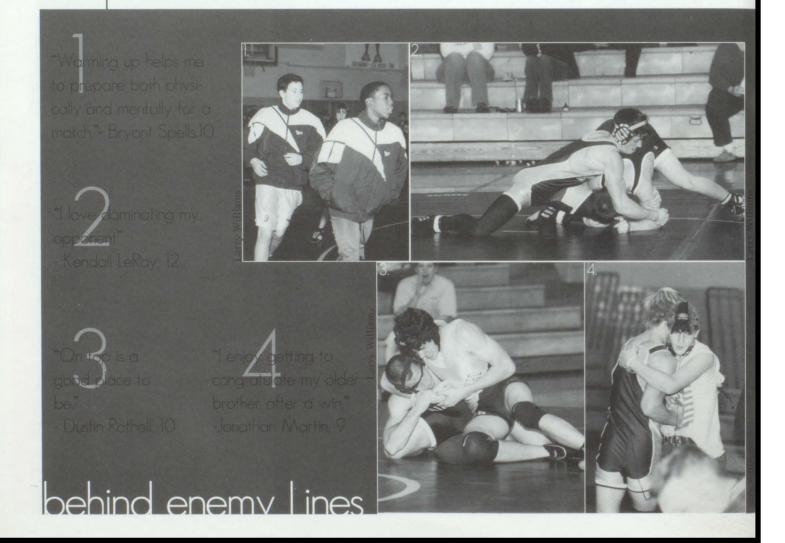

Wrestling teaches athletes more about themselves than any other sport. It is a tough sport because conditioning is vital and perfect technique is a must. You have train yourself to practice hard. You must to test my strength and abilities in order work hard to please your coach, your team, and yourself. The hard part, and good part, about wrestling is that it is an individual sport. In football or any other team sport, blame and praise both are shared among the players. In wrestling, all blame or all glory falls on you. You are alone on the mat with some one who wants to win as badly as you do. Winning and losing are each very deep emotions; therefore, a match is a test of one's ability and will. I must learn how to test my strength and abilities in order to perform to the maximum on the mat. Although it is hard, wrestling is also a very rewarding sport because the accomplishments are yours and yours alone. The physical and mental strain is all worthwhile for the chance to walk out on a mat and destroy someone else's dream in order to build your own. Wrestling is my sport and has taught me discipline, will, and a drive to always become better.

Daniel Martin, 11

Struggle. Will Harper puts all of his strength into this match; however, winning is not always the outcome. "It's not fun to lose," says Harper, 9.

Take Him. Sophomore Elliot Goorley takes on an opponent at a match. "I enjoy wrestling because I get to show off my strength," says

On the Mat. Part of the struggle of a wrestling match is the mental strain of falling behind one moment and being in the lead the next. "The great thing about wrestling is that you can be on the bottom one minute and winning the next," says Sophomore Eli McDaniel.

"Our Father who art in heaven, hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdom come thy will be done, on Earth as is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread, and for give us our debts, as we also have forgiven our debtors. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from the evil one. For Yours is the kingdom and the power and glory forever. Amen." My favorite way to begin a soccer game is to say the Lord's Prayer with my teammates. I love standing on the field as the first whistle blows and taking part in the start of the game. I also love walking off the field and seeing the extremely depressed faces of the Magnet High school soccer team after a 1-0 Jacket win. I enjoy playing soccer because of the fans; it's great hearing people support you from the sidelines when we do our final jog around the stadium. The cheering is always there no matter what; whether it be a Win or a Loss. Ever since I was young, I have played soccer, I moved to club soccer and from there I went to Byrd soccer. I have high hopes for our team next year because it will be my last year at Byrd to play soccer as a senior. I want to go into the season strong and leave stronger. I know our team will be able to accomplish this because we have a strong number of under classmen who continue to improve as soccer players. I hope our team next year will be strong enough to take on the challenge of beating Captain Shreve High School and Magnet High School for district and if everything goes well, I wish to take the C.E. Byrd soccer team to state.

Taking it away. Senior Aaron Austin kicks the ball to the other side of the field. "This year I had to put in a lot of hard work. We have played some pretty hard teams. But Byrd is striving to get our name out there," says Austin.

Cross country takes the lead. By Barrell Roy

The State Meet in Natchitoches-what an adrenaline rush! When there are over 300 runners starting at once, your heart is pounding, blood is rushing, and your body's on edge because you must perform at your optimal level, nothing less.

Barrett Roy, 12

Our team has a tremendous amount of heart and truly cares for each other. We always pray together before each meet. No matter how sick and exhausted we are at the end, we pull ourselves to the sideline to cheer the remaining Byrd runners to continue to finish hard.

Coach Tom Harrison has been an incredible blessing. He put his whole heart, lots of time and personal money into the team. There is no way we could ever repay him for his dedication. His example of coaching with love and respect should be emulated by all who aspire to coach youth sports! Assistant Coach Heather Butler has been a wonderful addition. She has won the hearts of everyone on the team! Cross Country runners are a special breed. It takes a certain drive to put yourself through that kind of pain to keep going. The memories made with Byrd's Cross Country team will last my entire life!

Kick It Upa Noto Return of glory to girls' soccer.

Every time we step on the field it is with a goal in mind: refuse to lose. In the beginning of the season the team established difficult, yet attainable goals. We wanted to beat Magnet for the first time in six years, beat Shreve, win a tournament, finish 1st in district, and go past the quarterfinal round in the playoffs. With the help of eager, experienced seniors and young, talented freshmen our goals began to become a reality. We took the season on one game at a time and played every game like it was our last. With every win our confidence grew, and we soon became a well-known team throughout Louisiana. We became a team to beat as we vaulted to first in district and into the top ten poll in the state. Everyone began to discuss the potential we had as a team, to go the distance with our amazing connection we had on and off the field. At the beginning of the season no one outside Byrd expected much from us. In the beginning, we took the field with unsure attitudes about our abilities. Unfortunately, the press took advantage of that with public criticism. With our coaches' help we continued to grow more confident and determined to prove ourselves to everyone in the city and the state. With every goal and every win the paper failed to mention, it just fueled us in our desire to win. Our team succeeded because of our hard work and dedication. Every player contributed to important part of the team. We exceeded our personal limits for the benefit of the team. Getting Pumped. The girls soccer team does a ritual before each game that motivates them to perform their best. Junior Kate Querbes says, "This gets me pumped for the game."

Johnathon,

This phase of your life is over, go into the world now and make your mark. Each of us are given a speck of time in God's plan before he takes us back. There's time to study, time to work, and a time to play. Use each one wisely and keep Jesus at your side. You've fufilled our hopes to now. Our prayers are that your hopes will be filled as you travel through life. All of your family is proud of you, loves you, trusts you, and is behind you. Thanks for being you.

All we can do is dream at the wind

I have always said that anyone would want you to be their son. You have such a caring and sweet spirit. You have blessed my life and many others in more ways than can be counted. I thank God every day for entrusting me with raising you. It has truly been remarkable. As this "inning" of your life comes to an end, know that a whole new ball game awaits you. Always remember to follow your dreams and believe in yourself. You can do anything you set your mind to as long as you keep your faith. I love you more than words can say.

Congratulations and Good Luck,

Nick, you are a man of courage and great integrity. It will be easy to enjoy the successes that befall you, but Sir William Osler has advice for the challenges that lie ahead: Live neither in the past nor in the future, but let each day's work absorb all your interest, energy, and enthusiasm. The best preparation for tomorrow is to do today's work superbly well. Be calm and strong and patient. Meet failure and disappointment with courage. Rise superior to the trials of life, and never give in to hopelessness or despair. In danger, in adversity, cling to your principles and ideals. Aequanimitas! I will forever be so proud of you, my son, Mom.

"Jesus said unto him (Thomas) I am the way, the truth, the life, no man cometh unto the Father but by me." John 14:16.

"There hath no temptation taken you but such as is common to man: but God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able but will with the temptation also make a way to escape, that ye may be able to bear it."

Congratulations Malissa Nicole!
From 86-05, I always knew you would make it.
You mean the world to me! We are all so proud of you! There's a special man smiling down from Heaven.

We love you, Mom, Maigen, Moregan, J.R., Memaw and Ken

In memory of John. R. Richarlson

Malissa,
We finally made it! Im so glad we've become such close friends these last four years. Thank you for always being there for me, Always stay the beautiful and crazy person you are! I love you forever!

Devyn,
We've been through so much these last four years, I will never forget all those crazy days and all the boy problems, thanks for always being there for me! I love you!

To the class of '05:

These last four years have been unforgettable! We've been through so much together! Thanks for all the memories! We love ya'll!!!

Raymond, The sun rises and sets in you! Reach for the stars and you will go far! Were very proud of you-Love, Mom and Dad

Carl Scogland

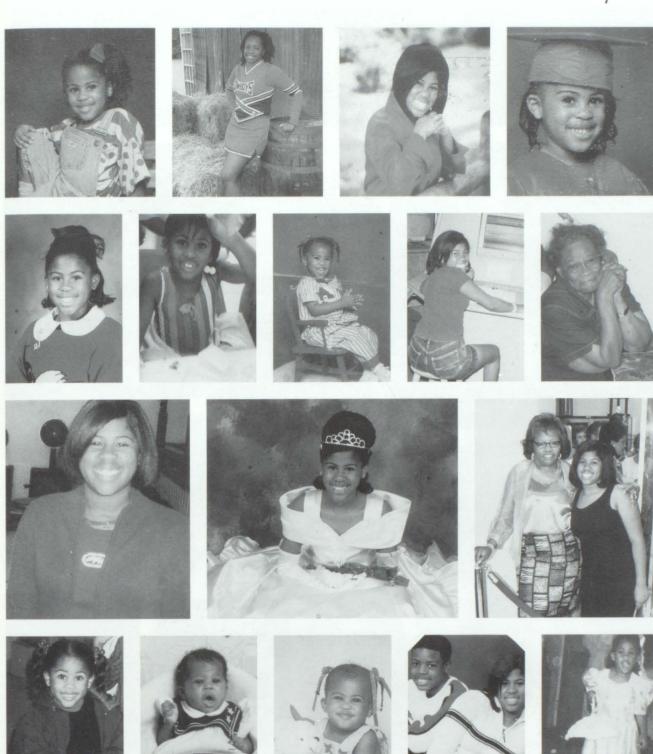

When we brought you home on Christmas Day 1986, we never realized what a GIFT we had been given.

We love you! Mom, Dad, and Blake

Phillipians 4:13 "I can do all things through Christ which strengthen me." Ashley,

We wish you all the success in your endeavers. Always Always Put God first in everything you do and he will always keep you in perfect peace. We love you,

The Samuel-Walls Family

Congratulations on four fabulous years! Thank you for letting us share in the excitement! We loved every minute. Mom, James, and Morgan things are possible." We love you! c/o 2005

Love, Dad, Mom, Nick, and Jason

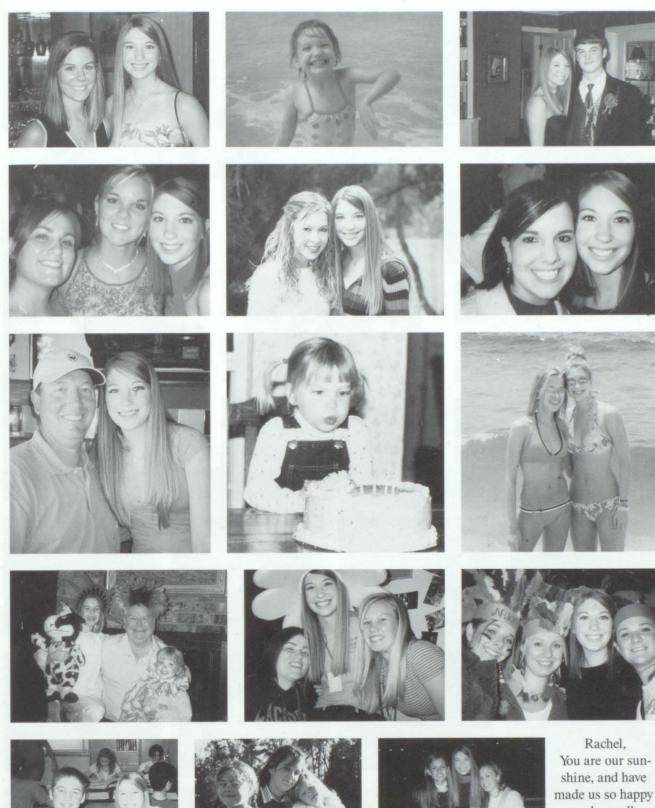

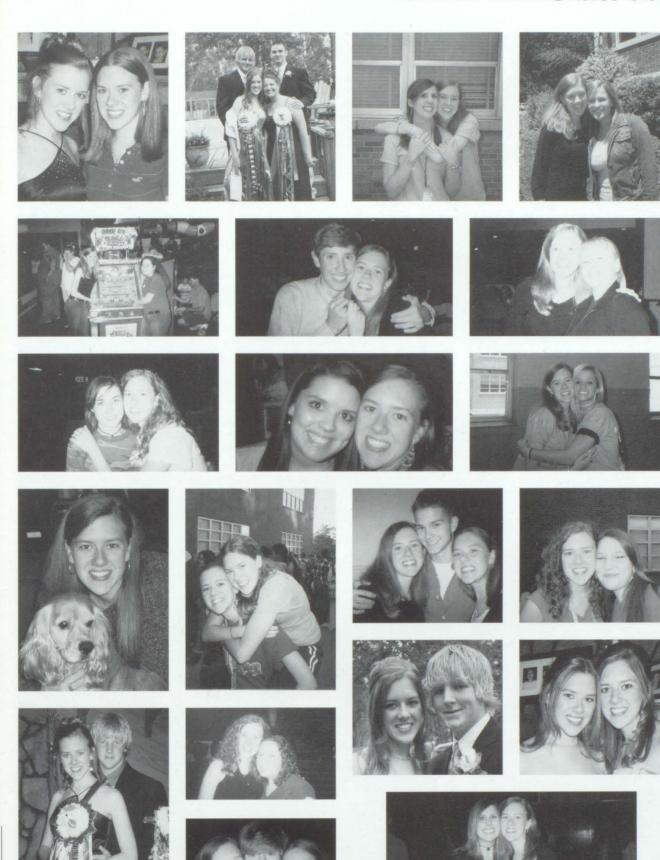

You are our sunshine, and have made us so happy and proud! "L" Mom, Dad, and Rebecca

Chelsy Sistrunk

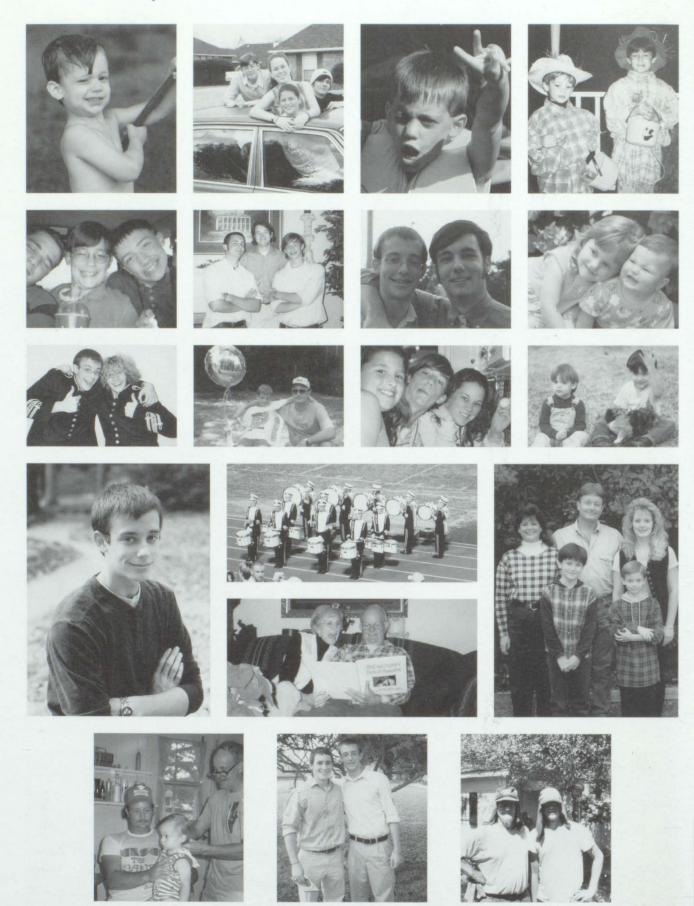

Here comes trouble...
but we love you anyway.
Congratulations!
Dad, Pam, Celeste and Matt

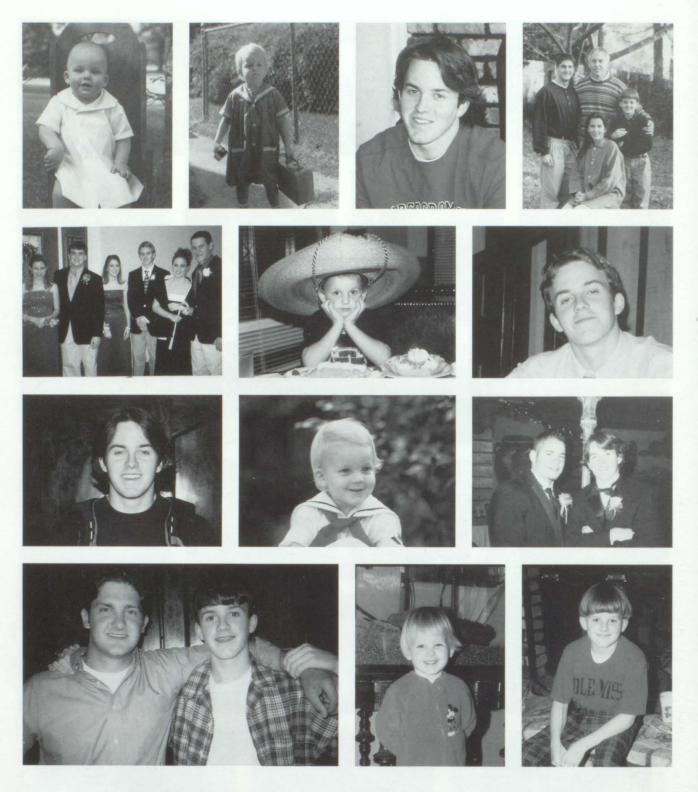

Matthew Stephens

For I know the plans that I have for you, declares the Lord, plans for welfare and not for calamity to give you a future and a home.

Jeremiah 29:11

Kathryn Stroud

most wonderful joy in our lives. From a beautiful baby, to the most beautiful woman, she is a gift from God. We are so very proud of you. Our love for you is forever. Good luck! We love you always

Mama and Daddy

Congratulations to a young lady. A great job well done. May God continue to bless you in starting on a new career.

Love always, Your Dad

We've had hard times, but by the graces of God we have come a long way. I'm very proud of you and your accomplishments. Remember to always put God first and keep your mind stayed on Him. Others may forsake you, but He will never let you down. God bless you and keep you.

With love, Go-Go

We love you, Maxwell! Congratulations! Dad, Mom. and Chrissy

Roxanne Taylor

You might be #71 on the field, but you' re #1 in our hearts.

We love you,

Mom, Dad, Karen, and Robert

Tiffany Thompson

You are an endless source of sweetness and joy, truly a gift from God. Your smile brightens our world. We are confident God will complete His perfect plan in your life as you continue to trust Him. We love you,

Mom, Rusty, Mimi, and Popsie Jeremiah 29:11

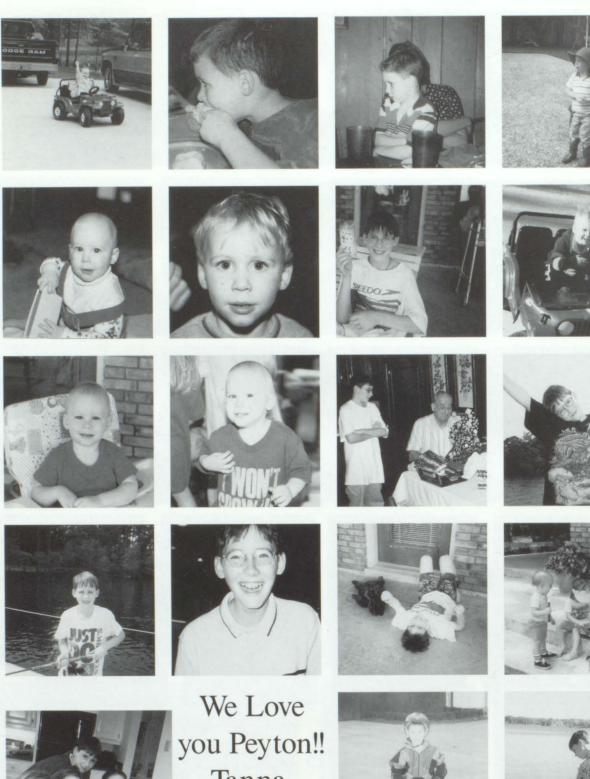

Peyton, it's been a great run!! Love, Mom and Dad, Claire and Page

We Love you Peyton!! Tanna, Ginger, Tim, and Kate

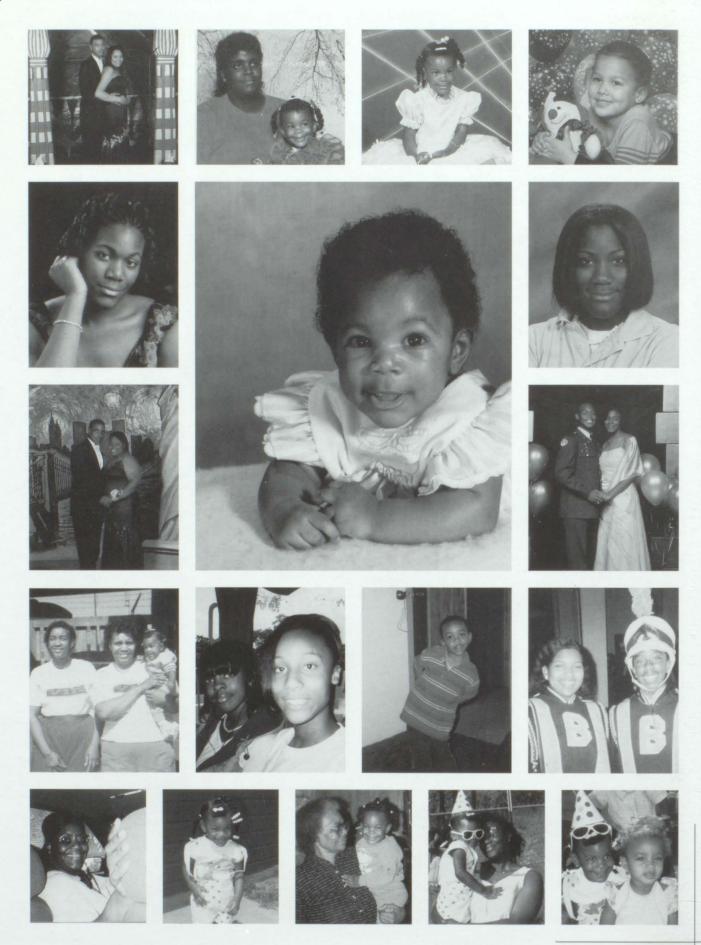

We held you in our arms the day you were born. And dreamed about your future and the things that you would learn, now you stand before us, a boy almost a man, we find we are reluctant to let go of your hand. But nothing can diminish the pride thats in our hearts, least of all the knowledge that its time for us to part. So now we give our only son the space to find his way, and celebrate the future on your Graduation Day. Words cannot describe how very proud we are of you - continue to follow God and your heart and you will live your dreams!

We love you, Dad, Mom, Brooke, PawPaw and Grannie Dee

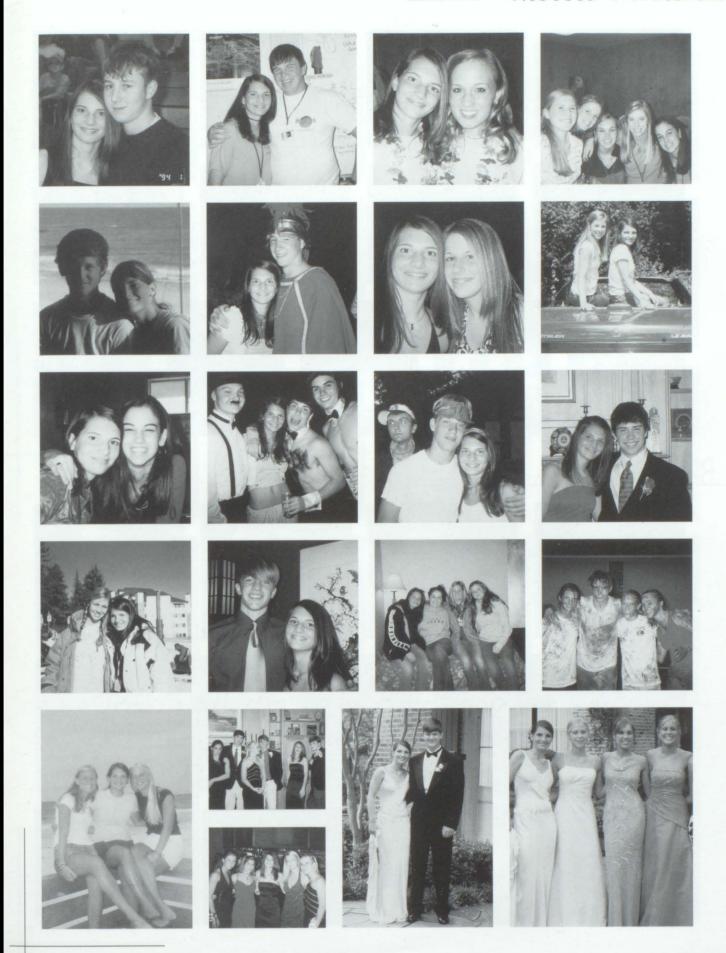

Congratulations! We're so proud of you Coleen! Love always,

Momma, Daddy, Tara, Jasmine, and Niles

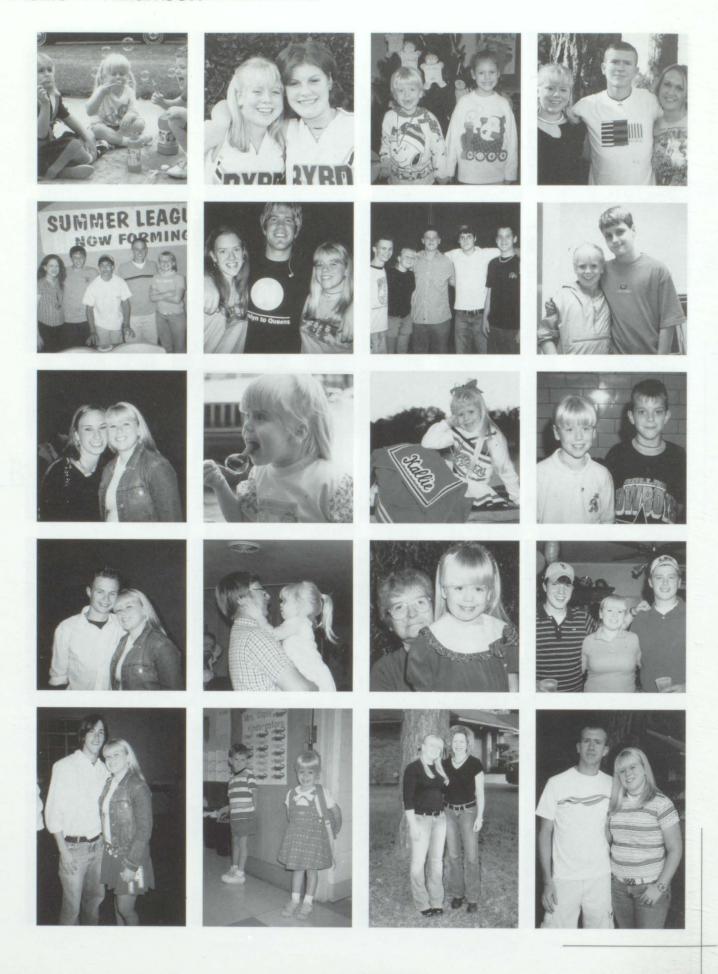

Brittney Williams

We just wanted to tell you how proud of you we are. How you will put your sisters' needs first, making sure they get where they need to be all the time. How you will take your time and coach little kids trying to show them and teach them sports, but most importantly, telling them about Jesus. We love you so much.

Love you, Mom, Dad, Katie, Kaila, and Kelsy

We love you and we are so proud of you and the person you have become.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Dusty, Josh, and Mammaw

But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run, and not be weary; and they shall walk, and not faint.

Isaiah 40:31

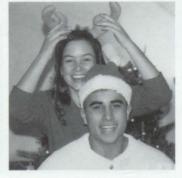

Latoya Ashley

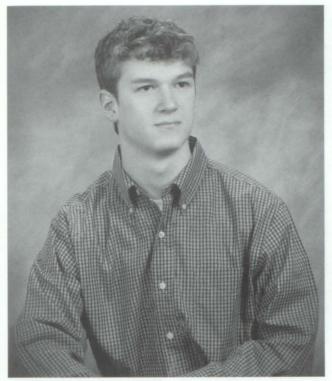

Through Christ who strengthens you, you can do all things. Love,

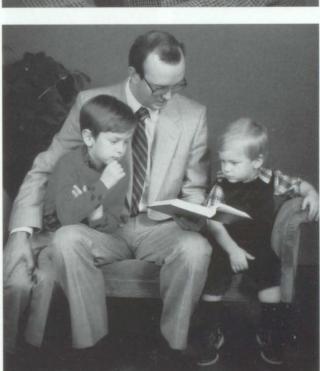

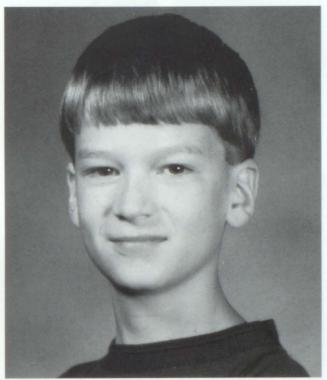

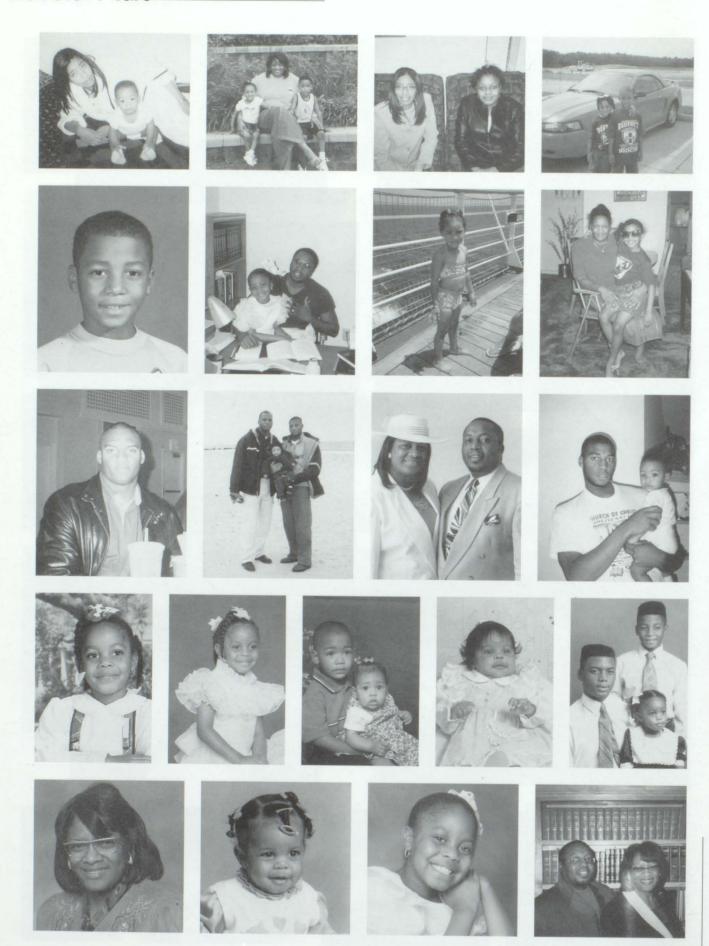

May you make the future you love or love the future you find.

Love, Mom, Dad, and Trey

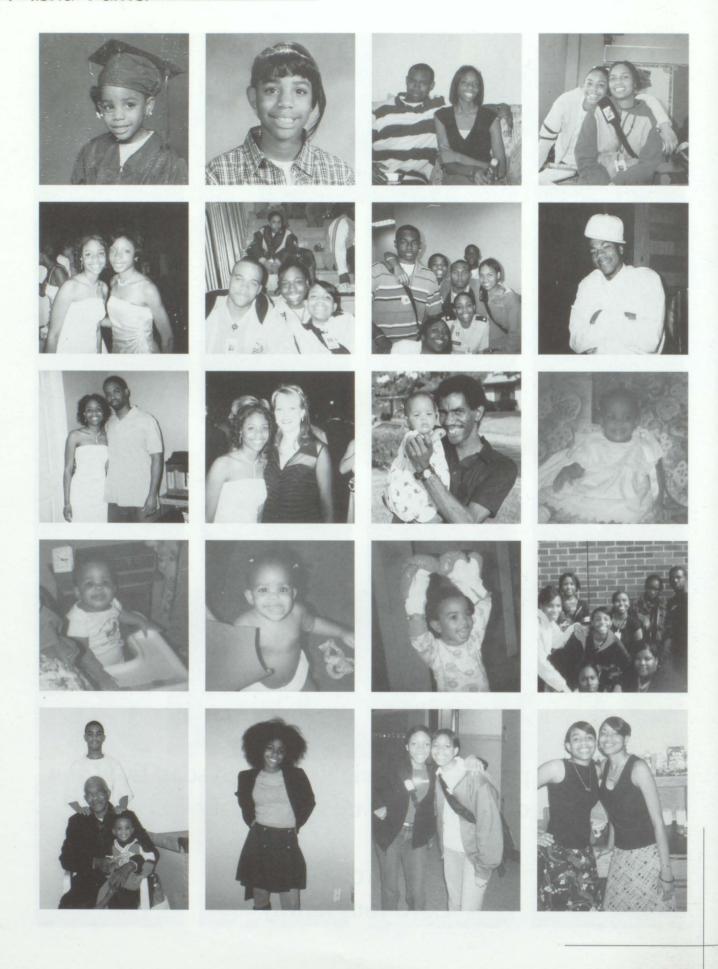

The dictionary is the only place where "success" comes before "work."

No one can predict what heights you can soar, Even you will not know until you spread your wings.

We are proud of you! Love your family

Colophon

All 1,070 copies of the 91st edition of the Gusher were printed by Jostens in Topeka, Kansas. Every design in this yearbook was created with Jostens InDesign software. The price of the book started out at $40 and by the end of the year they were $65. The cover was designed by Heather Miranda, a Jostens' cover artist and is a custom process gloss finish. The cover features a photograph of C.E. Byrd High School on Line Avenue. The theme, ON LINE, was thought of by Jordan Sandefur's grandmother, Wanda Stinson. The pages are 80 pound gloss. The theme was developed at a Josten's workshop in Bossier City, Louisiana and was perfected at the Josten's camp in Denton, Texas. The opening, endsheets, dividers, closing, and colophon were all designed by Editor Jordan Sandefur. The Student Life Section was created and edited by section editor Sunny LaGrone and assistant Ann Smith. The senior section was designed and edited by Mary Claire Campbell and assistant Rachel Scott. The People Section was created and designed by Brooke Carter and was assisted by Chelsey Wells. The Academics Section was designed and edited by co-editors, Brittany Laubenstein and Nikki Stripling. The Sports Section was created and edited by Jennifer Cook and assistant editor Megan Davis. The ads were designed and edited by Allinder Armand and Macy Fritz. The index was created by Kelsey Matlock and Chelsey Wells. We would like to thank Mr. David Baker and Mr. Chris Baker who are our fantastic Josten's representatives and "our champion at the plant" Mr. Bob Vukas. Without these three, the book would have been a nightmare. We would also like to thank our two principals this year, Mr. Richard Lavergne and Mr. Jerry Badgley, as well as Mrs. Prothro, Dr. Hollis, Mr. Ilgenfritz, Mr. Crosby, Mrs. Courtney, Mrs. Washam, Mrs. Jett, Miss Gladys, the counselors and faculty that we have bothered throughout the year. We would also like to thank the Highlife Staff and Carl Scogland for all of the wonderful pictures they gave us. We would also like to thank Williams Photography and our parents for hosting deadline dinners. A special thanks goes to your sponsor, Mrs. Gina Parker. Without her countless hours of proofing, the yearbook would not be what it is. We love you, Mrs. Parker! And last but certainly not least, we would like to thank our mascot, Ben Parker! Thanks, staff, for another great yearbook!

Handing Over the Reigns.

Principal Richard Lavergne hands the reigns over to new principal Jerry Badgley at the Founders Day Ceremony. Byrd City. Senior Nicole Gregorski and Sophomore Chelsea Martin perform in the Byrd recruitment play, "The Wizardof Byrd". Gregorski says, "I was really excited to be the witch because it was a role I had been preparing for all my life".

he 2004-2005 school year seems to have flown by. Fall turned to winter and winter to spring before we knew it. January 2005 brought significant change to our city "On Line". Byrd alum, Jerry Badgley was named the sixth principal in our proud 79 year history. Badgley is both "awed and honored". Indeed, he is following in the footsteps of some true pioneers: J.H. Duncan, Grover Koffman, Buddy Shaw, Lynne Fitzgerald, and Richard Lavergne. While his journey as Byrd's leader has just begun, one thing is certain. . . he will give it his all!

One on One: Principal Jerry Badgley talks with Jordan Sandefur

JS: What is your vision for C.E. Byrd High School?

JB: "I never want to accept the status quo. We will continue to do the things that are working well and figure out ways to improve those things"

JS: What are short term goals for Byrd?

JB: "We are working to improve the technology for students and faculty."

JS: You went to Byrd; what are some of the differences in Byrd today than Byrd in 1976?

JB: "There are far better opportunities that exist today. The core selection and technology is much better. Overall, the education is better."

JS:Are you still involved with the softball team?

JB: "I am still involved on the edges. The girls are still very important and special to me and I hope to be more involved over the summer."

JS: Take me through your years at Byrd as a student, teacher, assistant principal and now principal.

JB: "I entered Byrd as a freshman in 1973 when integration was at its tail end. In high school I made many memories with friends and loved to play baseball. When I came back to Byrd as a teacher, there were still a lot of former teachers here. I taught mostly freshmen and, of course, I coached all of those years also. From being in the classroom to becoming an administrator, the responsibilities increased. You also begin to see things that need to be changed and then improve on them. The kids are the result of our work. It is great to see so many flourish." C.E. Byrd High School is a treasure. Mr. Badgley will do his best to treat her as such. Under his watch, the future indeed looks bright. Carry On.

Last Lines: Letter from the Editor

Yearbook has indeed been a journey. I had no idea what was in store for me when I entered Mrs. Parker's door in the spring of 2001. Serving as Editor of the Gusher has been an honor and a priviledge. It has allowed me to have a small part in preserving the history of Byrd. Yearbook has taught me skills that will stay with me long after I have closed the door of the Gusher room for the last time. It also gave me the opportunity to be a part of a team. Sometimes you love your team, sometimes you hate them but you must always depend on them. Without all of the players on the team, the end result would never have been possible. To the staff: thanks for everything. Y'all are the best. Sunny, I know I have left the yearbook in good hands. Enjoy every minute-believe it ot not, it will pass too quickly! I know you will do a great job. I wish you the best of luck. Mrs. Parker, thank you so much for putting up with me. Thank you for showing me the ropes and believing in me. I will miss each and everyone of you next year. I wish you the very best with all of your future endeavors. Carry On! With love, Jordan Sandefur
